MEGA Industries, LLC – Proud Supporter of Wounded Warrior Project

GORHAM, Maine (January, 2012) – Mega Industries, LLC, a world leader in high power RF equipment manufacturing, is very proud show their support of Wounded Warrior Project.

“When Adam came to us with this idea, my first reaction was ‘are you crazy?’, but the more I learned about this event and the cause it supports, the more I saw this as a win-win” said Peter Matthews, CEO of Mega Industries. Now Adam has convinced others to join him including coworker Justin Boucher.

That is why Mega Industries is proud to support Adam, a Mechanical Engineer for Mega and Justin, a CNC Machinist, in their quest to complete this grueling event.

Tough Mudder events are hardcore 10-12 mile obstacle courses designed by British Special Forces to test your all around strength, stamina, mental grit, and camaraderie. Tough Mudder has already challenged half a million inspiring participants worldwide and raised more than $2.5 million dollars for the Wounded Warrior Project. But Tough Mudder is more than an event, it’s a way of thinking. By running a Tough Mudder challenge, you’ll unlock a true sense of accomplishment, have a great time, and discover a camaraderie with your fellow participants that’s experienced all too rarely these days.

FACT #1 – Marathon running is boring.

And the only thing more boring than doing a marathon is watching a marathon. Road-running may give you a healthy set of lungs, but will leave you with as much upper body strength as Keira Knightley. At Tough Mudder, we want to test your all-around mettle, not just your ability to run in a straight line, on your own, for hours on end, getting bored out of your mind. Our obstacle courses are designed by British Special Forces to test you in every way and are meant only for truly exceptional all-around people, not for people who have enough time and money to train their knees to run 26 miles.

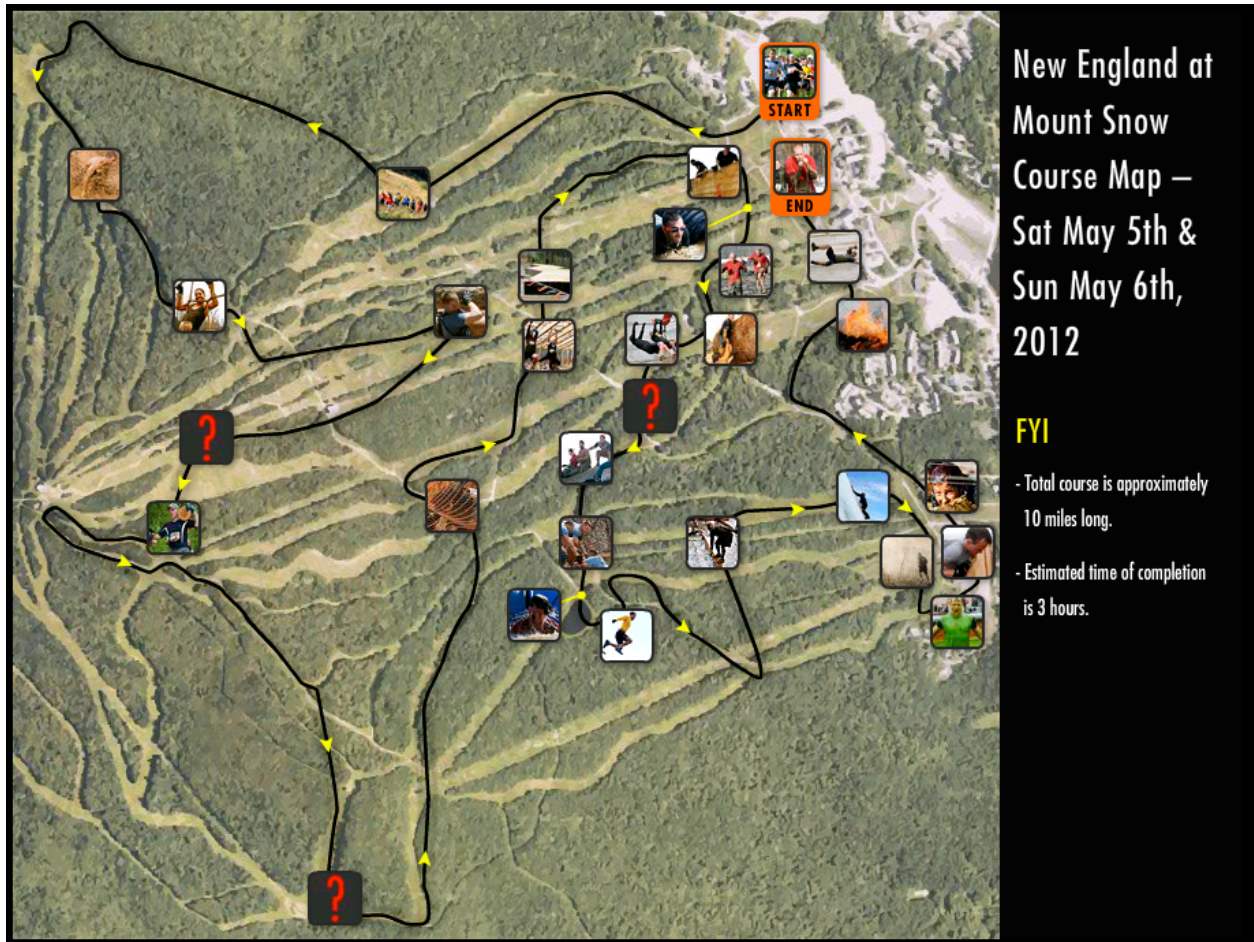

FACT #2 – Mudders do not take themselves too seriously.

Triathlons, marathons, and other lame-ass mud runs are more stressful than fun. Not Tough Mudder. As hardcore as our courses are, we meet you at the finish line with a beer, a laugh, and a rockin’ live band. It’s pretty hard to take yourself seriously when you’re covered in mud and have just finished an obstacle called

'Just The Tip', so please don't show up at a Tough Mudder without a sense of humor. Just check out the ridiculous team costumes in the photos on our website to get a feel for the spirit of Tough Mudder.

FACT #3 – You cannot complete a Tough Mudder course alone.

To get through mud, fire, ice-water, and 10,000 volts of electricity you'll need teammates to pick you up when your spirits dip. To get over 12 foot walls and through underground mud tunnels, you'll need teammates to give you a boost and a push. Tough Mudders are team players who make sure no one gets left behind. To that end, all Mudders are expected to uphold our ideals and exhibit teamwork and camaraderie both on the course and off it. All participants are asked to join us in reciting the Tough Mudder pledge before starting each event.

Mega Industries, LLC (www.megaind.com) a privately held Maine company, celebrates its 23rd year in business in 2012. Mega manufactures Rigid waveguide, Ultra High Vacuum waveguide, Semi-Flexible waveguide, Coaxial Transmission Line and their associated components.
